There were four or five small children in the car and they barely escaped being seriously burned. Mr. Bailey and the father of the children were rather badly burned.

Robbers at Work.

Robbers entered G. H. Bell's jewelry store Tuesday night and took various articles valued at several hundred dollars. The entrance was made by smashing the front door glass with a brick wrapped in a cloth. The brick was thrown with such violence that it smashed the end of a show case several feet away from the door. The robbers took small pieces of jewelry that had been left for repairs, silver spoons and watches. The more valuable articles were in the safe. It is evident that the robbers took their time after they entered the store. Burnt matches were found on the floor and drawers were opened in the search for valuables. The opinion of the police is that it is the same band of amateur thieves that has been operating around Dillon for the past several months.

Lawrence Covington's barber shop was entered the same night. The robbers tried to prize off the money box on a musical instrument, but did not succeed. There was nothing missing from the barber shop.

To Marry Next Month.

Turbeville-Holt.

Miss Emma Turbeville of Gaddys Mills was married to Mr. Hyman Price Holt of Hamer on the 23rd instant. The ceremony was performed at Piney Grove Baptist church, Rev. J. A. Langley officiating. The church was beautifully decorated, and the marriage was witnessed by a large crowd of friends of both bride and groom. After the ceremony the couple left for Conway where they will spend the holidays with the groom's parents. Upon their return they will reside at Hamer.

Stackhouse-Sellers.

The friendship since childhood of Miss Ruth Stackhouse and Philip Bruce Sellers culminated in their marriage Wednesday afternoon, December 23, at the home of the bride's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Wade Stackhouse, on Oakland avenue.

Unusual interest centered in this happy event on account of the prominence and popularity of the young people, both of them having been reared in Dillon, with a large family connection and numerous friends throughout the state.

The interior of the handsome home was tastefully and beautifully decorated, the arch in the hall, where the bride party stood being covered in Southern smilax against a white background with graceful streamers of white tulle caught up into a huge bow over the center under which was suspended a large, white hoop decorated with orange blossoms. Myriads of candles shed a soft light over the lovely scene.

Just before the appointed hour, 5 o'clock, Mrs. L. Cottingham played and as the wedding march from Lohengrin was sounded, the bridal party came down the stairs and took places at the improvised altar. First came the two dainty children, Eleanor Barlow, as flower girl and Sue Clark as ring bearer, both dressed in white with large white butterfly bows of airy tulle. Then came the fair young bride with her sister, Miss Mary Elizabeth Stackhouse, as maid of honor. They were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, Mr. Wellington of Jacksonville, Fla.

The bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white satin trimmed in real lace, court train, and tulle veil caught with orange blossoms and carrying a shower bouquet of bride roses.

The maid of honor wore a becoming dress of victory blue satin trimmed in gold and carried pink roses.

The beautiful ring ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, the Rev. W. B. S. Chandler.

While the bride and bridegroom were receiving congratulations and good wishes, Mendelssohn's wedding march was played.

After a short reception the bride donned a traveling suit of brown with hat and accessories to match and the young couple left for Birmingham, Ala., where the bridegroom is located for the present as an electrical engineer.

The wedding guests lingered to enjoy the delightful reception and admire the handsome display of gifts attesting the wide popularity of the young couple.

Elegant refreshments were served buffet style by a half dozen attractive young girls. Dainty little packages of wedding cake were given as favors. The bride's book was kept by Misses Jane and Kate Evans.

Everett, Miss Katherine Everett and Miss Annie May McLaurin of Bennettsville; Mrs. Maggie McGirt, Mr. and Mrs. Wattie McGirt, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sansbury of Darlington; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Miss Thompson Entertains.

Miss Ruth Stackhouse was complimented with a charming heart-dice party by Miss Annie May Thompson on Tuesday afternoon.

The guests were greeted by Mrs. W. B. Stackhouse. Tables were arranged and the game merrily progressed. The guest of honor was presented with a lovely piece of lingerie. A sweet course with coffee was then served by the hostess assisted by Miss Allie Braddy and Mrs. B. M. Dubose.

While the coffee was being sipped, toasts were given: "The Groom's Mother," by Mrs. W. B. Stackhouse; "The Bride's Mother," Mrs. A. C. Rogers; "The Bride's Past," Mrs. J. N. Hargrove; "The Bride," by Mrs. J. R. Thompson; "The Bride's Future," by Mrs. L. A. Manning; "Our Husbands and Sweethearts," by Mrs. J. F. Thompson.

The Thompson home is well known for its true hospitality and on this occasion surely sustained its reputation. The spacious drawing rooms were thrown en suite and were artistic in their decorations of japonicas and ferns.

Mrs. J. R. Thompson pinned the favors which were red carnations.

GUNN TALKS OF WIFE'S TROUBLE

Feared He Was Going to Lose Her, He Says, Like Different Woman Since El Vigor Relieved Her.

John W. Gunn, senior member of the firm of Gunn & Co. 654 Third Street, Macon, Ga., gives the following testimony regarding El Vigor.

"My wife was down with a serious case of the kidneys and had suffered so long that I had begun to think that she would never get up from the bed. Nothing did her any good. Her joints and limbs were swollen, and she was in misery all the time. At last I was persuaded by some one who came to our home to try El Vigor and I got a supply.

Inside of two days after she started taking El Vigor I noticed an improvement. She began eating like a well person and enjoying it. She kept right on taking El Vigor and before long she was up and going. She is just as well as anybody now, and is like a different person, since El Vigor relieved her troubles.

El Vigor is sold in Dillon by the McLaurin Drug Co.—1 1 t.—adv.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.
